Richa Gupta

Chief Human Resources Officer

As Chief Human Resources Officer, Richa is central to Globalization Partners' growth strategy as it continues building a strong global team to scale to meet the needs of the trillion dollar-plus remote work industry. Gupta will lead all facets of Globalization Partners' global workforce, while playing a key strategic role in scaling the company and culture to meet the surging demands of remote work across the globe.

Gupta brings over 20 years of robust technology human resources experience, with a focus on managing HR for global, complex organizations that are undergoing transformations and defining industries.

Previously, Richa held senior leadership roles at GE, PayPal, and, most recently, as Chief People Officer at health tech platform Castlight Health.

Richa graduated with a Masters degree in Organizational Psychology from Delhi University and an MBA from Wright State University in Ohio.
